

Let's learn together!

Gene Therapy Research: Understanding the Science and BioMarin Pharmaceutical invite you to a virtual HemDifferently event.

Explore the science behind gene therapy research

We're bringing together the collective knowledge of more than two dozen healthcare professionals across the U.S. to share the science behind gene therapy research with you!

This 1-hour virtual program will answer questions about gene therapy research, including:

- How is gene therapy research designed to work?
- What different types of gene therapies are being researched?
- Why are some people better candidates than others for gene therapy research?
